Trust in the Lord with all your heart and lean not on your own understanding; in all your ways submit to him, and he will make your paths straight.

Proverbs 3:5-6 (NIV)

I have reflected on this passage many times and in various circumstances. One time in particular when my grandson was experiencing some difficult times in high school I wrote this Proverb on a slip of paper and gave it to him.

It was four years later he surprised me with having “Proverbs 3:5” tattooed on his bicep. When I asked him the significance of that particular passage he said, “Memaw, don’t you recognize it? It’s your handwriting!” He then took from his billfold that slip of paper I had given him years ago.

He explained that it had always meant a lot to him and that now it and I would always be a part of him. WOW! That blew me away! Through my tears and to add a bit of frivolity to the moment I hugged him and said that I was glad I spelled it right! You just never know what impact your actions or words may have on your loved ones.
